Comparing Grapes to Grapes

THE BEST...

If you're like most people, you think that wine racks, wine cellar designers, and wine storage companies are pretty much the same and that price is the only differentiating factor. Think again!

Whether you're a serious collector ready to invest in a custom wine cellar that can house thousands of bottles, or a wine lover who simply needs some entry-level pieces, there are lots of manufacturers out there and you need to know you're comparing apples to apples, or as we say in the wine biz, GRAPES TO GRAPES!

Depending on your needs, there can be much more to it, and we've outlined some of those factors here.

I have to say, we are very happy with the way the materials were packaged and shipped — everything arrived undamaged and in excellent condition. We are also very happy so far with the quality of the materials, the fact that all the hardware was packaged in separate baggies and clearly labeled, with extra fasteners included, and the assembly process was much easier than I had thought, and a lot of fun.
